CHESTNUT KNOB SHELTER

3/22/11

Ahhh.... I'm quite honored to be the one who gets to choose this book. Just stopping in for lunch, heading down to Jenkins for the night. Didn't enjoy the push up hill today after getting into the shelter after 8 last night. At least it's down hill from here (or so it says)

-Renaissance 2 Corinthians 5:17 NoBO '11

3/22/11

Sea Eagle is for the night. Beautiful spot, but I must agree with Renaissance, the pull uphill was not enjoyable, especially after I filled up with water at the pond/spring earlier back. I plan to just stop and enjoy the view.

3/25/11 Just in for a snack break. Biwicb last night in Walker's Gap in the light snow and FREEZING. Sitting in a cloud here, so no views to enjoy. But GREAT to be on the trail. End Flyin, Honesdale PA 611 → 42, then plan to hitch back to 611.

4/2/11 Coach and the Professor stopped here for lunch. It is still hazing on Virginia
Coach and the Professor

P.S. I just wanted to give you a short note to J.C.
We hope all is well with you and your wife.
We send our best regards to you both
As always think of only math

4/3/11 Stopped for the night. Big hike up that 4 mile Hill in rain. Great day. Great view
E-D neopd

4/3/11 Stayed overnight last night to do some trail maintenance

4/3/11 Five guys from PA -- stopped for a much-needed break. Section hiking this weekend (Thurs - Mon). Thursday: rainy & cold; Friday: snowy & cold; Saturday: snowy, windy, & did I mention cold? Sunday: beautiful! sunny, Colorado blue sky -- what difference a day makes!

4/3/11 Big Country 2nd time around looking forward to all the killer SIGHTS ~~to see~~
"BigCountry"

4/3/11 1420 hiked up. Beautiful view. The uphill hike was rough but worth it! Temp mild & breezy! Curtis & Ashley

4/4/11 A hiking we shall go! GREAT night IN the shelter. Unbelievable winds!

4/4/11 Stopped in for lunch. Great views!
- Solitaire VA - ME

4/5/11 Crazy night here last night, couldn't sleep for the rain pounding on the tin. Getting a late start (3:15pmish) lol and only going to Jenkins shelter. Hoping the lower Alt will have warmer temps. The white box is from Mr. Keen-Freak - he ran me some amazing trail magic up so if you would please leave his box. ☺ The spring on the old road bed is flowing good, look closely there is a pipe. Good luck - Face

4/6

Spent the night with that crazy girl Tigger. Cold but no wind or snow. looking like a beautiful day early start - headed to Helveys Mtn shelter - longest day yet
Magpie Bay

4/6 Really nice cold night. Favorite shelter so far. Felt like I was in an ill-equipped space ship. I'm going hiking now.
Elvis (Tigger)

4/6 Stopping for the night. I think I'm going to Helveys Mtn. shelter tomorrow. At least not so much uphill as today. Got to read my guidebook next time before I go to a shelter. Not so much water left and I don't really feel like going back after 2 1/2 miles.

Dutch

4/7 Dayhike FS 220 L. Walker Gap (2 mi.). Very nice day, so far, but will get warm later when going downhill. Rockies

4/8 Stopping in for lunch & just made it before the super heavy rain started. Rest of the group is coming up behind me and I'm sure is soaked to the bone - really happy to have this fortress for this rain.

- Treebeard

4-8-11 STOPPED IN FOR LUNCH. ALL THE GUYS ARE HERE NOW! STORM SONG, NINERS, & STILL WAITING
IT IS VERY WINDY & RAINY TODAY. PUSHING
ON TO NEXT SHELTER FOR THE EVENING.

WEEKEND CONTINUED ON THE WAY TO KATMANDU.

4/8/11 Thanks to whoever left the ticket deck up here. I am very excited to do an reading for

SUNSHINY DAY! IN HICKORY

4/9/11 → Stopped in for lunch. I was glad to be in a shelter last night for the storm (not Mad Branch), congrats

to all who made it with anything less.

The village police have a Water Bear report

P.S. - Holy Ladybugs! They're everywhere up here.

3:21 p 4-9-11 Just made it to the shelter before the bottom dropped out of the sky. Luckily we have over rain gear.... but the dogs are not so fortunate.
(Please bring dog inside somewhere it is dry.)
They try to avoid getting struck by the abundant lightning and I am setting door-closing device (I think it might it was a booby-trap like in a cartoon).

P.S. A little hail came down, then the wind picked up after the rain stopped.
Hope we don't get blown away ☺

4/10/11. Drove there, stayed last night with P/T with Spontastic and Elf man. Spent the morn. A lot in my sleeping bag room, and bit my legs, not cool? I'm still looking forward to meeting "The Face", "Face Jack",
"Face" and "Face #2". I've heard a lot of good things about these guys.

4/10/11 8:31 am Denver and Eric

4/10/11 8:31 am The elements did a number on us yesterday. Rain, hail, thunder, more rain. It is good seeing a shelter with 4 walls and a door. Late start today, but only looking at a 16 mile day.

4/10/11 There are no hills after Damascus! No rain or cold either. The hail storm yesterday was an illusion. Only flat, 72°F, perfect hiking days. See you tomorrow Bearsted - Day 1.

4/11/11 Not sure, early March starts to give off heat to complain about the weather until 4/15. Sat & rain and Sun's heat have really brought out the odor in my shoes. Beginning to feel like a real hiker. Rambler

4/11 long climb! In for lunch. Bland tomorrow for resupply - Ghost - NOBO

4/12 Arrived just before rain began. Wonder if anyone is making the climb up here in that rainy stuff. May crash here tonight.

4/12 Weather was the same as yesterday so I grabbed the tent & got it up just in time. It got very hot inside. I realize that it is time to walk back & get a ride to get water. Doh! Oh well, the sun

4/23/11

This is my first registry entry — and I'm completely taken aback by the vitriol from SNIFUR. It's very easy to hide in a corner and pen poison against others — things that one wouldn't have the courage to say face-to-face. But before I judge too quickly, perhaps there are reasons that have caused SNIFUR to become a curmudgeon and miscreant. The venting in this registry was completely over the line. This is too beautiful an adventure to so descend. I sign my real name.

4/27 8:45pm After a long hiking day, I am happy to stay in this nice shelter. I am afraid just to be gone at darkness and strong winds come on. Today was a great day. With a lot of sun and trail magic. 27 miles. Calf and I stay alone in this shelter. ← not alone anymore! Just in time the rain is started. Wild Rain is here! ☺

4/27 I am very thankful to be inside this shelter. I had my tent up about 7 miles back, but I had a bad feeling about it, and after Calf walked by, I packed up and left as fast as I could to get here - I even ran part of the way. I had to hike in the dark for a while (super scary!), but we've got tornado weather and dangerous storms, so I'm blessed to be in this shelter tonight. I hope Silver Fox and Stretch are okay tonight.

→ Wild Rain

4/28 9:30am Silver Fox and Stretch: I hope you guys are okay! I was so worried about you guys out in that terrible storm last night! I hope to see you later today sometime. Be careful out there - Wild Rain

4/28/11 Silver Fox - Stopped for track 10:55 AM
Wild Rain - Slept good in tent last night! HEAVY rain. But no leaks in tent - Safe & sound. G(A) you were thinking of us. Stretch was sleeping when I LEFT this morning.

4/28/11 Stretch - track break. Very windy here. Wild rain! We were okay last night at low elevation. Camera broke though. Survivorman + Ma lei hope all b' well!

Did you know that Left + Right Fitted shoes were first made popular during the Civil war? ~~During the Civil War~~

I found this out at the Settlement museum yesterday. As the story goes, the necessity came about when soldiers were experiencing very sore feet. An interesting bit of trivia, passed to me by Dot, a volunteer there.

DOT ROCKS!!
→ I love this trail. I love the fellowship with the wilderness. I love the history of the people who have lived, suffered and died here (like Dick Brindstaff)
I love the wisdom & experiences of other hikers. I love the attitude of those days when I see many a soul.

Someday soon my poor choices of the past and the training that has been undergoing for a long time will probably result in my having the ability to have such wonderful experiences. I am so very grateful for this opportunity to love this trail.

5/13/u Friday the 13th! Good thing I made friends with Kent and Karo last night. Half way up Chestnut Ridge I see a note on the trail - 'really big snake, look out.' I see nothing so I move on. A mile later Kek leaves a note that says "SERIOUSLY MASSIVE RATTLESNAKE! WATCH YOUR STEP!" I toss some rocks into the bush, Retry and find the bastard but no luck. I step up on a log and down to the trail and there he is in all his glory!
Less than 2 feet away hissing, rattling like a baby and moving toward me. My ad-hoc reflexes get me out of here and I bushwhack and for a nice view of the Face Foot MONSTER! What an incredible encounter out here! Ten minutes later I come across a 5 foot black (rat?) snake just after the clearing.

Enjoy the adventure. The Trail is life.

5/16 We will catch up Sparky but what a lovely shelter... I almost feel like I'm in town (except for the 4L of H2O I had to carry here!). I miss hiking w/Moss but am enjoying figuring out what "my hike" actually looks like. I am dwelling in possibilities & have been reflecting a lot on Viktor Frankl's book Man's Search for Meaning. Here is a good quote for you:

*This is the general word
which would be replaced by the "one" or
"she"*

Everyone has his own specific vocation or mission in life; everyone must carry out a concrete assignment that demands fulfillment. Thereon he cannot be replaced, nor can his life be repeated;
thus, everyone's task is unique to his specific opportunity. —Viktor Frankl

Taking a break. I remember this shelter well back in 1988.
Great view of the sky at night
but Ticks everywhere. Looks better this time around.

I see they added the porch. Moving on. Still foggy and misty out.
Weather should clear by weekend I'm told.

Running the last mile or so, because that big, massive storm was moving over me incredible fast. 4/24 Telephone said has been great for a Stomach ache.

I hope will be good with exercise. Keep your head level.

DARREN

4/24 Would be nice to see better tags. What's it like to have a ~~300~~ section? Hanging of the gang found some nice and writing out my free lunch.
HAPPY EASTER! This is a awesome letter for color and they could end it.

Love You All,

Schander

4/24 Tree Thug is for the night. Playing catch up with Valcore is no easy task. Big day tomorrow? We'll see.
Peace, love, and hair grease!

P.S. Snifur is full of shit, and Grace is THE shit.

6-1-10 - White Beard was here.
I missed the spring by the pond.
Now that I know what it is &
where it will be a great stop

~~6-14~~ - Lunch - Coach

6-4 stop to enjoy the pretty nice shelter

6/4/11 - In for a short break and prius! yay. Sweet shelter moving on...

~Shamer

wended up finding a new home? 30 mi... must have really needed it down to the water - and beyond!

6/10 that mountain really was a doozie! I saw a cool peeing and if I let go of that much I would be happy too!
Stopped in for the night... Didn't go swimming or even fill our H₂O at the pond. Parasites in water F.Y.I. off to next H₂O source. The source 2 miles from here down that side road is DRY! - Styx.
